Headline:
Sunshine and showers today. Risk of hail and thunder.

Today:
After a chilly start, it will be another day of sunshine and showers. The showers will be heavy at times, with the risk of hail and thunder. The showers may turn a little wintry at times over higher ground. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
Any showers should gradually ease during the evening to leave most places dry with some clear spells overnight. Turning chilly initially, before cloud increases from the south overnight. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Saturday:
Cloud and rain, heavy at times, will arrive from the south early morning and spread northwards during the day. Windy, with local gales possible. Rain turning showery later. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
A band of showery rain will move slowly southeast on Sunday, although warm in the sunshine ahead of this feature. Further showers into next week. Often windy and feeling cool.
